EIGHT DAYS OF HOPE TO ASSIST LOS ANGELES, CA, FOLLOWING LIFE-THREATENING WILDFIRES

Tupelo, MS – Eight Days of Hope (EDOH) is responding to the life-threatening wildfires in Los Angeles, CA. Driven by 70+ mph winds into the populated area, over 180,000 residents had to evacuate from their homes beginning Tuesday. This devastating disaster has left behind tens of billions in damage across the city, and it has taken at least 5 lives.

“Our hearts are broken for the extreme loss in Southern California. The devastation is beyond belief. Eight Days of Hope is committed to loving and serving those impacted by these fires in any way possible, working through the local church” says Stephen Tybor III, EDOH President and CEO.

In the coming days, Eight Days of Hope will be partnering alongside several churches in the Los Angeles region to provide essential supplies for those in great need. These churches will provide assistance with housing, transportation, food and other items.

For the next few weeks, EDOH is accepting monetary donations to provide the above much needed resources for those ravaged by the fires. To support those impacted, consider making a donation today at www.eightdaysofhope.com/donation.
