EIGHT DAYS OF HOPE RESPONDS TO FLOODING IN EASTERN KENTUCKY

Tupelo, MS – Eight Days of Hope (EDOH) will be deploying their Rapid Response Ministry to Eastern Kentucky to aid victims of the recent flooding.

This will be a heavy deployment of the Rapid Response arm. A small team of EDOH volunteers who are trained in all areas will be serving the most essential needs on the ground. This team can move quickly because of the limited number.

“We are heartbroken for the communities who have been devastated from the severe weather and flooding over the weekend,” shared Stephen Tybor III, EDOH President and CEO. “Our team is ready to serve those in need in any way we can, bringing hope and help through our hands and feet.”

EDOH will be serving in the area starting Friday, February 21, and stay until Saturday, March 1. Volunteering for this outreach is not available at this time. To learn more about EDOH’s response, please visit www.eightdaysofhope.com.
