EIGHT DAYS OF HOPE TO BRING 1,800 VOLUNTEERS TO THE SOUTH DISTRICT OF BUFFALO, NY, FOR EIGHT-DAY OUTREACH

Buffalo, NY – Eight Days of Hope (EDOH) is hosting its 7th annual outreach in the City of Good Neighbors, bringing a record number of volunteers, to the South District.

From Saturday, July 18 to Saturday, July 25, 1,800 volunteers and over 50 organizations are linking together to complete projects such as roofing, painting, window installation, landscaping, porch repairs, and more.

"Witnessing hundreds of volunteers come serve my hometown brings so much gratitude and excitement for what will happen over the next eight days," shared Trace Gillis, EDOH Director of Buffalo, "It is a joy to give back and bring hope to my neighbors."

Since EDOH – Buffalo launched in 2019, the Ministry has served across seven different districts – University, Masten, Fillmore, Ellicott, Lovejoy, Niagara, and this year the South District – helping over 2,000 families with home repairs.

Volunteers from dozens of states and Canada will be joining EDOH to serve in the South District. Additionally, EDOH is hosting two free concerts for volunteers, and the general public, to attend. Terrian will be live at Elim Christian Fellowship on Monday, July 20 at 7 p.m. Band Reeves will be live at Elim on Thursday, July 23 at 7 p.m.

"Seven years! We love our Buffalo family and are so thankful for the partnerships that have enabled us to serve those across the city since 2019,” said Zach Tybor, Vice President “this year will be no exception, with a record number of volunteers planning to join us as we build a better Buffalo together.”
