EIGHT DAYS OF HOPE DEPLOYS MASS FEEDING TEAM TO NAVARRE, FL, IN RESPONSE TO HURRICANE ISAIAS

Tupelo, MS - Eight Days of Hope (EDOH) is deploying its Mass Feeding team, along with thousands of packed meals, to Navarre, FL, following the devastating storm, Hurricane Isaias. At its peak, the storm left downed trees and power lines in its wake and left hundreds of thousands without electricity.

"We have watched this storm since it was taking shape in the Gulf, strategizing and preparing our trailers in the event of a deployment," shared Chandler Gurley, EDOH Vice President. "Today, we are humbled to send our team to begin serving hot meals in Santa Rosa County, where their hearts are heavy and their homes have experienced extreme damage."

The team will be setting up to serve free, hot meals at Noon on Sunday, October 11, at Destiny Worship Center – Navarre Campus (8860 Navarre Pkwy, Navarre, FL, 32566) and will continue serving until the need subsides and power is restored across the community.

"We are ready to serve our hurting family in need with free meals! Our hope is that when you meet our team, our smiles lift your spirits, and you know we made this meal with you in mind," said Darren Bellanger, EDOH Feeding Director.

At this time, the ministry is allowing local volunteers to join their efforts, helping prepare, pack, and distribute meals. For local volunteers, they can email feeding@eightdaysofhope.com. At this time, the ministry does not have lodging accommodations available for out-of-state volunteers. However, this may change as additional accommodations become available.
